

Annapurna circuit trek

Introduction

Annapurna round trek is known as circuit trek. The popular Annapurna circuit trek route is considered as a best classic trek in Nepal. We have two options for circuit trek, one is clockwise and another is anticlockwise. The most of trekkers follow the anticlockwise trekking route, because we can gain altitude slowly, and crossing the legendary Thorong-La pass safely. This trek crosses two different river valleys, one of Marshyangdi River (Manang) valley and another one is Kali–Gandaki River (Mustang) valley. Kali–Gandaki has a deepest gorge, which has been recorded as deepest gorge of world. The trail offers outstanding scenery on entire trip; slowly we reach to behind the Himalaya after summit the Thorong–La. We can experience traditional Buddhist culture ancient monasteries and chortans with colorful prayer flags. We will visit to famous Hindu pilgrims’ site at the Muktinath temple with 108 running water taps and an unbroken flame. We can see the diverse landscapes, subtropical forest, high alpine deserts, the massif views of (I -IV)Mt.Annapurna, Mt.Manaslu, Mt. Machhapuchere,Mt.Dhaulagiri includes Gangapurna himal, Nilgiri, Pisang peak and Tilicho peak. The trek start from Kathmandu with 6 hours’ drive to Besisahar, then will catch another Jeep or bus to Chame village. The trail is moderate up to Manang, and then up to Muktinath is a bit challenging. We follow the Marsyangdi River bank up to Manang. In between we can visit many traditional villages which are really amazing for historical knowledge and experience. Manang is a paradise for visitors and best destination for cultural explorers as well adventure lovers. After Throng-La pass, we enter to Kali-Gandaki (Mustang) valley. Now, we will follow the Kali-Gandaki River. The next day, lunch will be in Jomsom Bazaar then go to Marpha village for overnight. Marpha has a beautiful apple orchard. The next, we will drive by bus to Tatopani(natural hot spring) where you can relax with bath. Now, the Annapurna circuit trek is completed, but if you have time 2 more days, you can trek to Poon Hill and require a week for Annapurna base camp.
